1. Download Facebook Videos Manually

The direct URL to the Facebook video is revealed once you play the video on a mobile device. Since we can open the Facebook's mobile version on our desktop browser, we can download videos using this trick.

- I. Open any video on Facebook. Let the URL change in the browser's address bar. Typically, it would look like "https://www.facebook.com/photo.php?v=530450063674734&set=vb.514572458595828&type=2&theater"

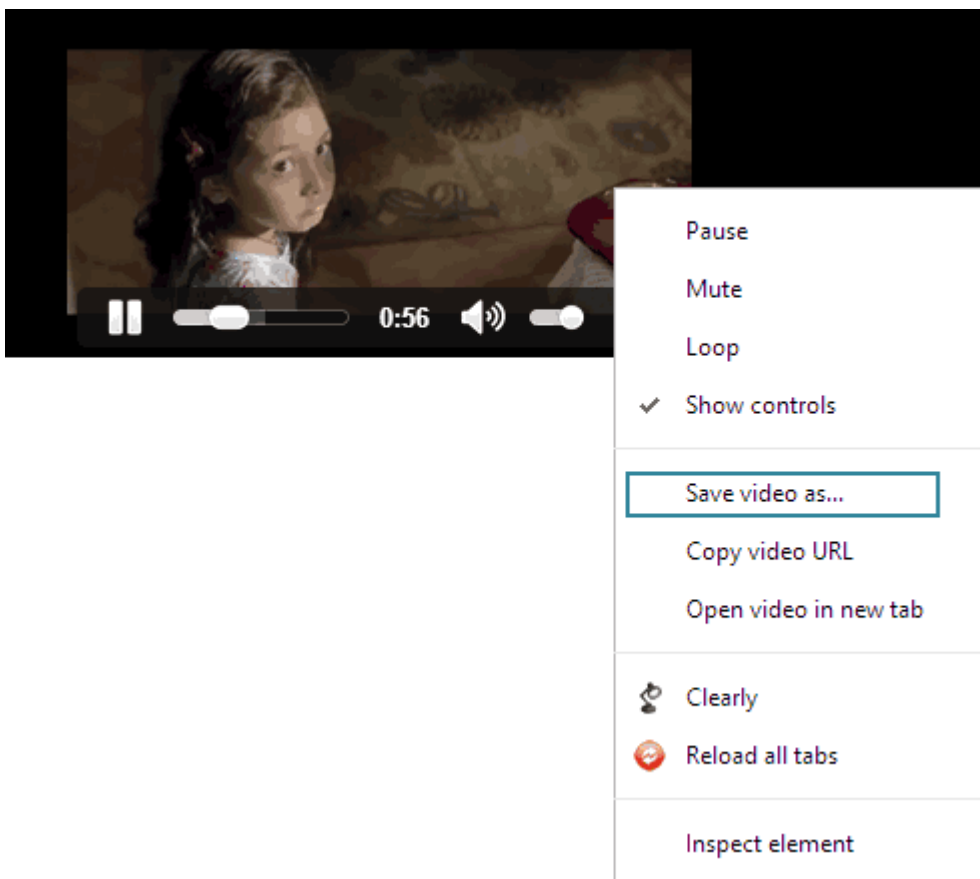

The diagram illustrates the process of modifying a URL. It shows two versions of the same URL: the top one with 'www' and the bottom one with 'm'. A red arrow points from 'www' to 'm', with the text 'Change "www" to "m"' written in red next to it.

<https://www.facebook.com/photo.php?v=530450063674734&set=vb.514572458595828&type=2&theater>
Change "www" to "m"
<https://m.facebook.com/photo.php?v=530450063674734&set=vb.514572458595828&type=2&theater>

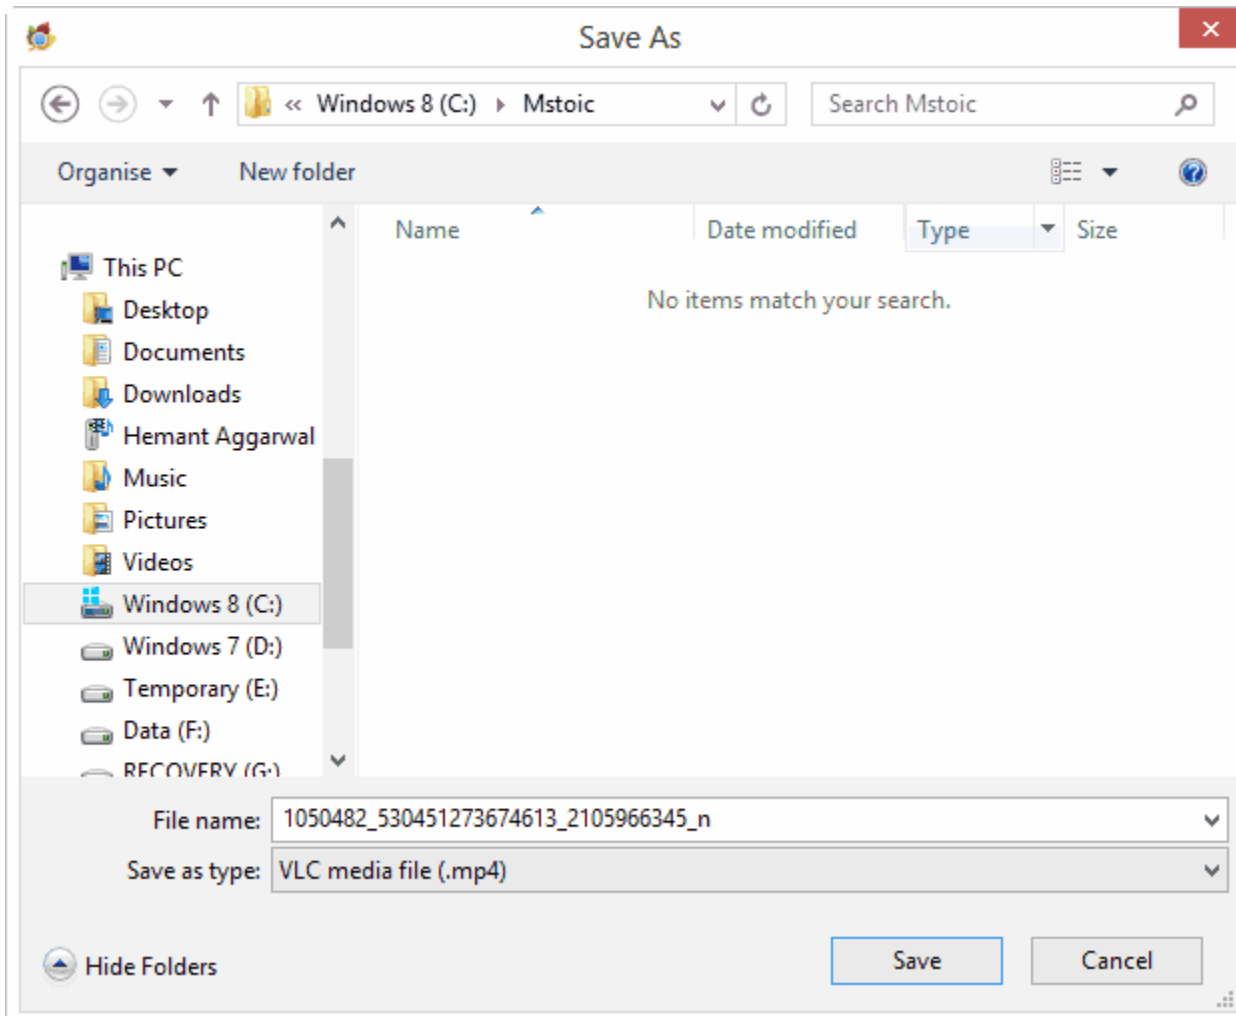

- II. Just change the "www" to "m". Then the URL will look like "https://m.facebook.com/photo.php?v=530450063674734&set=vb.514572458595828&type=2&theater". Changing this will open the Facebook mobile website.
- III. Now, your video will look something like below.

IV. Just start the video and right-click on it.

V. You will get an option titled “Save video as...”, click on it and save your file with any name you want.

NOTE This trick was tested on Google Chrome and it worked perfectly fine on the latest version. It may/may not work on other browsers.

UPDATE Mozilla Firefox and Internet Explorer users need to use the Facebook mobile website, and then open the video to download it using right-click menu.
